HIMSELF BEING THE CHIEF CORNER STONE—II Timothy 2:19; Ephesians 2:20

Dedication

Behind the front lines of God's great work at the Moody Bible Institute is a vast number of people whose faces are rarely seen, but whose faithful stewardship in prayer and giving make possible the continuance of this ministry.

"I praise God for the privilege of partnership bestowed upon me in the work, and fellowship of building to the praise and glory of His name. . . . I could never express in words the deep gratitude I have in my heart for all of you who have ministered to me. . . . You may be assured that whatever blessing God is willing to intrust to my care, will be devoted to the service of spreading the Gospel, and for the training of young men and women chosen for this work. . . . My prayers and aspirations are always imploring for your continuance and expansion in His Service!"

This testimony from a faithful friend of the Institute, we believe is typical of the great multitudes who uphold its ministry.

Having, therefore, received that which was sent of them, "an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God," we, the students of the Moody Bible Institute dedicate to our many donors this, the 1950 ARCH, in appreciation for their earnest endeavor in helping to make known the Gospel, and for the privilege of being "co-laborers together with Him."

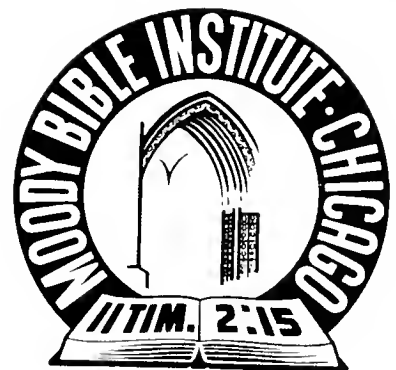

Foreword

Great indeed is the privilege and responsibility of being God's fellow-workers. This truth should be inseparably interwoven into the life of everyone connected with the school life and work of the Moody Bible Institute. Every friend of the Institute, as well as each member of the administration, faculty member, employee, alumnus and student must do his part in the great work of building to the praise of His glory.

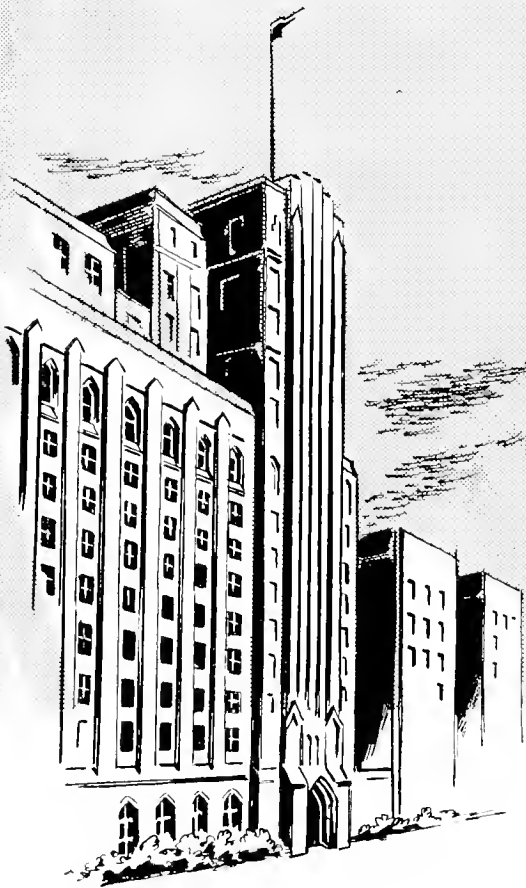

As students, we realize the challenge that faces us in view of the great opportunity that is set before us. Our role at present is that of trainees being prepared and trained to be sent forth as servants of the Most High God.

God, having called us out of darkness into His marvelous light, now has a definite plan and purpose for each of our lives. In order to be faithful servants and good stewards of the manifold grace of God, we must each follow His plan and fulfil His purpose.

With "Labourers together with God" as our watchword, we publish this 1950 ARCH, desiring that in all things "He might have the pre-eminence."

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

As every man hath received the gift,
EVEN SO MINISTER THE SAME ONE TO ANOTHER,

AS GOOD STEWARDS OF THE MANIFOLD GRACE OF GOD—I Peter 4:10

Message from the President...

One of the truths, which it is imperative for the Christian to learn early, is that he is a steward. Now there are certain fundamental and basic facts which are clearly a part of this truth.

First, let it be clearly established and earnestly believed that "Ye are not your own" (I Corinthians 6:19). Even apart from God's claim upon us because of redemption, we are not our own. Did He not create us? Is it not in Him that "we live, and move and have our being"? (Acts 17:28). But how much more that claim is intensified because of salvation. "Ye are not your own; for ye were bought with a price" (I Corinthians 6:19,20). No Christian has any right to take the reins of government into his own hands; he belongs to God.

Second, since our whole being is God's, it follows that everything entrusted to us is His—time, talents, things. Is it our hours and our days? The Word of God says: "Look therefore carefully how we walk . . . redeeming the time" (Ephesians 5:15,16). Is it the special abilities and capacities granted us in natural and supernatural endowment? The Word of God tells us that it is to the servant who is used of the Lord that the words of commendation are spoken: "Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful . . ." (Matthew 25:21). Is it the possessions bestowed upon us? The Word of God says: ". . . of thine own have we given thee" (I Chronicles 29:14).

Thus we are stewards—by virtue of our position, and by virtue of our appointment. May the words burn with fire, may they flame in our hearts unforgettably: ". . . it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful" (I Corinthians 4:1). So in that coming day, may each of you be acclaimed "as a good steward of the manifold grace of God" (I Peter 4:10).

Message from the Dean of Education . . .

No greater privilege could possibly come to anyone than to be a laborer together with God, and yet this is revealed to be true of every one engaged in Christian service. It is a revelation which brightens every day, lightens every task.

As you go on your way with the Lord, you have the blessed assurance that He has a definite work for you to do, "that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God." Since the gifts and calling of God are without repentance, you will never be unemployed, so long as you make His will the desire of your heart. You will never have to worry about income for He has promised to supply all your need according to His riches in Christ Jesus. If you lack wisdom to do your work well, you need only to ask of Him and it will be given to you liberally. Nor do you have to be concerned about your share of the wisdom of this world, because it is foolishness with God.

In the world around you there is bound to be unhappiness, turmoil, frustration, anxiety—but the Lord has made provision that your joy may be full. He has given His own peace to you. He has promised to lead you to rest and refreshment as you require it. You never will want for fellowship with the Comforter dwelling within and the Father and the Son as your constant companions. As you work for God, you know that some day you will receive a reward, according to your own labor. You have been given all things that pertain to life and godliness for as long as you live; eternal riches await you when your job is done.

Therefore, whatever your lot, remember "that your labor is not in vain in the Lord" (I Cor. 15:58) "for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labor of love, which ye have showed toward his name" (Heb. 6:10).

STUDENTS

Study to shew thyself approved unto God,

A WORKMAN THAT NEEDETH NOT TO BE ASHAMED,

RIGHTLY DIVIDING THE WORD OF TRUTH—II Timothy 2:15

Senior Class

At the Junior-Senior Banquet! Carl Goltz, president of the Senior Class, and his wife, at the end of the table, seem to be enjoying their meal. After the banquet in the school dining room, a program is put on in Massey Chapel.

Seniors prepare to retreat! Juniors and Seniors congregate in front of the 153 building preparatory to the Senior Retreat. Underclassmen look on as the send-off reaches a climax. The Senior Retreat is a highlight in the senior term at Moody.

From retreat to final advance! Following the relaxation and enjoyment of the Senior Retreat the seniors complete their course of study. Then comes graduation, all too soon. The president of the senior class, Carl Goltz, leads the procession in Torrey-Gray Auditorium.

STANDING: James W. Grimes, Jr., vice-president; Lloyd Gunn, treasurer; SEATED: Carl M. Goltz, president; Frieda Helzer, recording secretary; Lawana E. Webb, corresponding secretary; Helen I. Needham, faculty adviser.

In answer to the call of God for Christian service, eighty young men and women found themselves bumping elbows and fellowshiping with several hundred other students throughout the halls of Moody Bible Institute.

In the fall term of '48, these eighty consecrated students became an organized class, bound together for the one purpose of training for more effective service unto Christ.

Our fellowship with one another and the Lord increased as we joined together to fulfil the duties of the class, to enjoy the many social activities, and to experience the never-to-be-forgotten days of our Senior term. Amidst the hustle of studies, class meetings, senior appointments, class pictures, retreat, meeting with mission boards, and various other activities, we learned the necessity of depending wholly on the Lord in order to stand true to our class motto, "Holding forth the Word of Life."

The highlights of our Senior days were those few days spent on Senior retreat. This week-end, filled with precious times of fellowship in prayer, singing, hiking, boating, testifying, and making life decisions, will ever continue to refresh us as we go forth to serve Him.

Then came Commencement day! All too soon we realized that our days at M.B.I. had come to an end. As the last days were spent in bidding farewells and in Commencement activities, we found ourselves once more standing at new thresholds of life. With the challenge of the Commencement address, "Jesus Christ, Greater than any, Greater than all," we boldly step forth by His grace as His servants faithfully and devotedly "holding forth the Word of Life."

Words to the Class Song

HOLDING FORTH THE WORD OF LIFE

Dear Lord, we stand amazed this day
At grace as found in Thee,
And love that led Thee to the cross
For sinners such as we.

We do not understand the grace
Which keeps us day by day,
Or love that draws us back to Thee,
E'en when we've gone astray.

We know that Thou hast promised, Lord,
Though why, we cannot see,
That some day Thou wilt come to take
Thine own to live with Thee.

Chorus

Holding forth the Word of Life
With loving hearts aflame,
Throughout this sin-sick world we go
To glorify Thy name.

Senior Class

At the Junior-Senior Banquet! Trevor Ardill, president of the Senior Class, replies to the welcome just given by Ralph Trantham. The banquet is enjoyed by all and the program which followed in Mossey Chapel was very interesting.

Senior Retreat! Those who go with high expectations on the senior retreat are not let down. Although rather dark and cold, everyone seems to be enjoying the hayride.

Graduation, all too soon! Following the many hours of study in school life comes graduation. Here the seniors enjoy one of their last chapel services at M. B. I.

STANDING: Roscoe Stinsman, treasurer; Alvin Jones, vice-president; SEATED: Trevor Ardill, president; Doris Craig, recording secretary; Marian Board, corresponding secretary; Miss Helen Rentschler, faculty adviser.

With the experience of the new life in Christ comes the realization that God has a plan for our lives. Each member of the April '50 class was called to Moody Bible Institute to fulfil part of that plan.

We, in this class, have come to know each other's aspirations and visions for service, and to share one another's burdens. Class devotions have deepened the spiritual tie between us, and social activities have furnished us with pleasant memories and strengthened our bonds of fellowship.

God directed our choice of Trevor Ardill as class president. He, other class officers, and our class adviser, Miss Helen Rentschler, have all been an inspiration to us.

As we come to the end of our training at Moody Bible Institute, we look back with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow; joy that God has given us the opportunity to study here, and sorrow that we must leave those who have meant much in our Christian lives. We can echo Paul's statement, "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you, always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy, for your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now."

"Christ our life" will be our challenge to let Christ perfect His will and purpose in our lives that He may be glorified.

WORDS TO CLASS SONG

CHRIST, OUR LIFE

We marvel at Thy love, O Christ,
That led Thee to provide
Redemption so complete and free,
With no good thing denied.

We do not know what Thou hast planned
While here we work for Thee,
But Thou wilt be our constant Guide,
So we would faithful be.

Some day, dear Lord, Thou wilt return.
And we shall see Thy face;
Then we shall praise Thee as we ought,
For wonders of Thy grace.

Chorus:

O matchless Christ, Thou art our life,
We give ourselves to Thee;
May every day our lives be lived
In the light of Calvary.

Senior Class

A section of the Senior Class at a regular business meeting. Miss Jackson is presiding at this meeting, while president Ralph Trantham sits on the front row. Providing the foundation for class organization, regular business meetings like this are held during the several terms of class organization.

A glimpse of the Junior-Senior Banquet which our class as Juniors put on for the April '50 Class. Mr. Springer, our class adviser, is seen near the bottom of the picture. The Junior-Senior Banquet provides an enjoyable time of fellowship between the two upper classes at school.

Part of a group of Seniors at Class Devotions. Here Clarence Bakk is leading the group in devotions, several weeks prior to the Senior Retreat. On the Senior Retreat similar group devotions are held, and they prove to be a precious experience to all who take part.

Robert Lytle, vice-president; Dorothy Jones, corresponding secretary; Mr. Arthur Springer, faculty adviser; Ralph Trantham, president; Clarinda Johnson, recording secretary; Gordon Pullen, treasurer.

Realizing anew God's claim on our lives because of new life in Christ Jesus, we came to the Moody Bible Institute in order to better prepare ourselves for His service.

It seemed as though the time literally flew by after we organized in the Summer of '49. Mr. J. Arthur Springer became our class adviser, and our president for the first two terms was Robert Robinson. On our first outing we went to Jackson Park, where many recall the dunking in the lake which Glenn Solum, one of our class speakers, received.

For the last two terms before graduation, Ralph Trantham headed the class as president. After a few more outings, business meetings and devotional periods, we were well into our Junior term. The Junior-Senior Banquet with all the details of preparation almost swamped us, but the Seniors were royally entertained. Spring along with Christ Our Life was the theme borne out by the all musical program, with Dr. Culbertson bringing a devotional message on the same subject. One of our class members, Duane Benjamin, arranged most of the musical numbers used in this program.

As we had expected, the retreat was the high point of our Senior term. The many precious hours spent together in recreation and fellowship will not soon be forgotten.

Great has been our opportunity in being able to attend Moody, and many and varied are the lessons we have learned. Now, with the class motto before us: "We Preach . . . Christ Jesus," we eagerly look forward to the waiting harvest, confident that ours is a message which can satisfy the fainting multitudes.

We Preach . . . Christ Jesus — 11 Corinthians 4:5

WORDS TO CLASS SONG

OUR HIGH CALLING

We heard Thee calling, "Come to Me,
And leave your way of sin;
For you I shed my own life's blood,
Your pardon free to win."

We heard Thee saying, "Follow Me
Each moment of the day;
In heav'n for you I intercede
To keep you in the way."

We heard Thee pleading, "Go for Me
To those who have not heard;
I've chosen you to tell abroad
Salvation through My Word."

CHORUS:

We joyfully acknowledge Thee
To be our All in All;
We love Thee; we will serve Thee, Lord,
Obedient to Thy call.

Underclassmen are alphabetized in three different groups in this section, due to the ones who enter at each of the three terms of the school year. These sections start on pages 54, 64, and 66.

All the underclassmen are not pictured in this section, because the compilation of this section is on a voluntary basis for the students.

1—Steve missed this shot.

2—They took the silverware back to the dining room.

3—Has she pink or blue eyes?

4—Even bedtime stories are told in the Health Service.

5—Don't worry; a Dean is with them.

6—It must be dinner time.

7—Underclassmen???

1—They seem to be enjoying themselves.

2—They must have read the "little yellow book"— they're at least six inches apart!

3—Here we have a serious case of "something."

4—This is Al Jones' nursery class.

5—Viewing the light and the dark side of life.

6—All tired out, they're signing in.

7—This is a familiar sight.

Evening School...

From the hubub of the busy city come the students of the Evening School. They come seeking spiritual refreshing and blessing and to learn more of the Word of God that they may be better suited to make Christ known among those with whom they come in contact day by day in the office, home, factory, hospital and shop.

Unlike the students of the Day School, who anticipate a life of full-time Christian activity, the majority of these students are studying in order that they may have the right answers for their fellow-workers, Sunday school pupils, and others who desire to know more about the Lord Jesus Christ and God's plan of salvation. Many of them study in order that they as parents may be better able to raise their children in the fear and admonition of the Lord.

The students of the Evening School, being daily in contact with the outside world, come to us with a keen sensitivity of the sin and defilement that exists all around us. Seeing this condition, they have been moved by the Lord to do what they can to bring these people to Christ.

We thank the Lord for these our brothers and sisters in the Faith, who, many times tired and footsore after a busy day of work, make their way each Tuesday and Friday evening to 820 North La Salle St. They know that within the walls of the Moody Bible Institute there will be fellowship with the Lord and His people. They will then go forth to labor together with us in the spread of the gospel. Only eternity will reveal what their earnestness in purpose has accomplished for the glory of Christ.

Correspondence School...

Ever since 1901 the Correspondence School of Moody Bible Institute has been making a systematic study of the Bible possible for thousands of people in various parts of the world, who are unable to attend Bible School. The original courses in Bible Doctrine, Synthesis and Analysis offered by the Correspondence School have been augmented by splendid new studies in Personal Work, Scripture Memorizing, Church History, Prophecy, and many other subjects closely associated with Christian living.

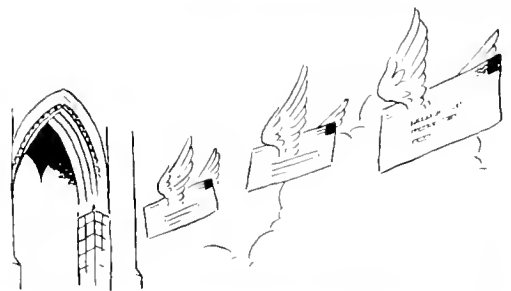

Thousands of pastors, missionaries, Sunday school teachers, prisoners, shut-ins, the blind, and lay-workers everywhere are finding inspiration and sound instruction in these new courses. Frequent reports of how many have organized classes for group study, come to the office. The organization of such groups effects substantial savings in enrollment fees.

Students who plan to enter Day or Evening School classes are given credit upon the completion of certain of the courses offered by the Correspondence School.

Through the untiring efforts of Mr. Philip R. Newell, director of the department, and his staff, the Correspondence School continues to spread the gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

And whatsoever ye do in word or deed,

"To the ends of the earth" is the aim of the Missionary Union of the Moody Bible Institute, and that this aim has been achieved is evidenced by the influx of students from other lands.

From each of the ten prayer band groups, India, China, Japan-Korea, Island World, Africa, Moslem, North America, Latin America, Europe, and Hebrew, we have at least one representative student. Many of these young people never heard the Gospel until some graduate of the Institute showed them the way of salvation.

In prayer bands we gather together to pray for the needs of the missionaries and the people of these various fields and many are the reports received telling how God has answered prayer.

Each student receives inspiration and challenge from the Missionary Union that could be acquired through no other channel. The executive committee keeps in constant touch with former students and others who are laboring for the Lord all over the world.

The spiritual emphasis placed upon this program makes it of even greater value. Its leaders are carefully and prayerfully selected, and they endeavor to make the activities of the organization a blessing as well as a stimulus to every student.

Many former students now on the fields of service can testify that they first heard the call of the Lord in Missionary Union. Through fellowship with other students in prayer they learned the true value and sacred responsibility of intercession for the fields that are white already unto harvest.

One stage of Rec. Club elections

"Rec Club tonight!" These words are heard among the students when the second Saturday of each month rolls around. "Going?" asks one. "From the looks of the bulletin board it will be good," replies another. Each student of M.B.I. is a member of Rec. Club, and all the faculty are honorary members.

The purpose of the Recreation Club is to develop wholesome Christian social and recreational life among the students. This is accomplished by a great variety of programs such as parties, picnics, pictures, etc., all planned and directed by an executive committee and their adviser, Miss Bernice Van Baren.

As much as possible talent from the student body is brought into these meetings, bringing to the students something that will provide real Christian fellowship and be a blessing to each one who comes.

Student Council...

The Women's Student Council is composed of representatives elected by the girls of each dormitory floor. These representatives act upon matters pertaining to dormitory living and their aim is to help the women students maintain a well-balanced physical and spiritual life.

At the beginning of each term the Student Council holds a Big and Little Sister Tea, with the main objective of acquainting the new girls with other students. Other activities of the Student Council include Field Day at Lincoln Park, a Sprina Party, and Stunt Night.

Student Council...

The Men's Student Council, as a student organization, was formed two years ago for the purpose of affording an avenue of expressing general sentiments of student groups or individuals and of the faculty and departments to the betterment of the spiritual and social life of the student body. Members are selected from the dormitories with each member representing about twenty students.

At the beginning of each term a group of old-timers welcome new students to the Institute. They help carry their luggage and act as guides to the rooms. Each new student receives a packet of information which explains student life, Chicago's transit system, and contains suggestions for the "quiet time." This welcoming committee is a project of the Men's Student Council.

With the goal set high, the 1950 ARCH Staff set to work on the '50 ARCH in the summer of '49. The task ahead did not look easy, but we knew God would keep His promise, "Fear thou not, for I am with thee, be not dismayed for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee, yea, I will help thee . . ." The staff has only to thank and praise the Lord for the marvelous way in which He has proved His faithfulness.

The annual of the Moody Bible Institute, the Arch, is set forth in 1950 as a reminder to all Christians that "We are Labourers together with God." What a sacred privilege and responsibility, yet it should again remind us to continue walking in the separated steps which He hath ordained.

As this book goes forth we must realize that this is the record of one more school year, into which activities we shall never enter again. We trust that many happy memories and rich blessing will be the reward of the one who peruses the pages of the 1950 ARCH.

It looks like the editor's working.

Moody Student...

Carroll Lindman, editor; G. Coleman Luck, faculty adviser

Beginning anew in the fall of 1949 with a new editorial staff, the Moody Student continued to change through the year. A new staff of thirty-three members, new paper, a new adviser, Dr. G. Coleman Luck, and a new mascot, all energized the search for news.

The school paper is intended to stimulate thought and action on important issues, to carry a spiritual impact, to inform students concerning school and world news, and to provide basic journalism training.

The Moody Student is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press. In competition with other members of the A.C.P., the Moody Student received a First Class rating in the latest critical service rating of college level papers.

All was not labor, however. On occasion the hard-working staff sought relaxation in informal social activities.

Moody Chorale...

Moody Chorale has made one of the greatest advances of any of the student organizations at Moody Bible Institute. Originating with a group of about forty voices, the 1949-1950 Moody Chorale has grown to exceed the eighty mark.

During the winter term the Chorale has made regular appearances at churches all over Chicago on Sunday evenings and a week-end tour taking in several suburban cities.

In addition to the sacred classics, gospel song arrangements, spirituals and small groups, the concerts this year included a dramatic sketch based on the life of D. L. Moody and the founding of Moody Bible Institute. The title of this part of the program was "All in a Life-Time," and included narration by members of the Chorale, choric speaking, and musical background.

Forty-five members of Chorale represented the group while on tour in the north-central states and as far west as Denver, Colorado. This trip taken during the spring vacation and the first week of the new term, is an annual occasion for the organization.

Replacing the former white collars, the Chorale now wears high-collared vests and stoles of white satin with robes of maroon, the school color.

Designed for the purpose of presenting the latest methods in Christian Education, the Club which bears that name, reached an all time high of 900 members this year. All students are eligible for membership and receive a wealth of material that may be used in Young People's and Children's Work.

Counsellor Mae at the Musical Workshop Party

The programs, which are held once a month, are planned to include every phase of Christian work, and students benefit not only by the printed material but the demonstrations of the working program given by competent leaders.

Outstanding among the programs this year have been the Musical Workshop Party, conducted by Counsellor Mae, and the Christian Education Fair, with displays from the Pioneer Girls' Club, Scripture Press, Singspiration, Christian Service Brigade and others who had valuable information for the development of an ideal program.

In the words of its faculty adviser, Mr. Harold Garner, the Christian Education Club is "a must" for every student of the Moody Bible Institute.

Nurses Fellowship . . .

The Christian Nurses Fellowship is the most recent organization to receive official recognition as an extra-curricular activity of M.B.I. This group includes more than fifty registered nurses who gave up full-time nursing to come to the Moody Bible Institute to prepare more adequately for the service to which the Lord has called them.

With Miss Angelyn Dantuma as their faculty adviser, these Christian nurses have made much progress in the past few months. They meet for times of fellowship, discussion of professional problems, and to testify of the Lord's working in their lives. In addition, they have been used of God to do gospel team work in hospitals throughout the city, to encourage girls who have felt the need of nurses training before going to the mission field, and to challenge student nurses to live for Christ in the hospital and to serve Him after graduation.

Intramural Sports...

Sports have a definite place in the life of the servant of God. An individual may play ping-pong, or just be a spectator, but even the value derived from sports in these rather insignificant ways cannot be overlooked.

Although not a great deal of emphasis is placed on sports, it draws much interest from the majority of the students. It is hoped that in the near future our facilities may allow for a better intramural program.

The high competitive spirit and the practice of sportsmanship have added the necessary elements in our sports program. Basketball is the overwhelming favorite and is probably the best organized.

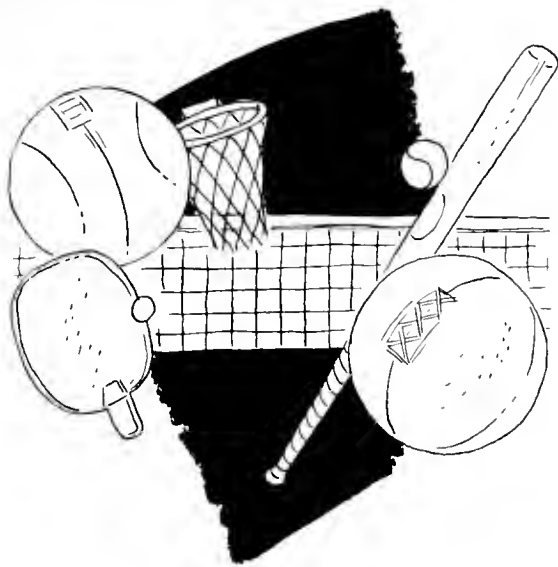

Both men and women take part in most of the sports. In the fall term we enjoy volleyball and ping-pong. The winter season brings basketball, badminton and wrestling. When the warm days come it is time for softball and tennis.

The following pages are dedicated to the intramural champions.

Practical Christian Work

To Mr. James F. Harrison and Miss Helen C. Rentschler, directors of Practical Christian Work, grateful appreciation is extended, for their untiring efforts in making this service a steppingstone to the future, laboring together for the furtherance of the Gospel.

When Dwight L. Moody, under God, founded this great school he was careful to provide students with the opportunity to face life, and to see for themselves the great need for the preaching of the gospel, and to share with others the valuable instruction received in the classroom. Through the intervening years the Moody Bible Institute has maintained this tradition; therefore, Practical Christian Work has been one of its distinguishing features.

Certain phases of Practical Christian Work are required of every student regardless of the course in which he is enrolled. Additional assignments of a different type, related directly to the kind of work for which the student is preparing, are also provided.

Students in the Evening School retain the Practical Christian Work in which they were engaged at the time of enrollment and each student carries one assignment each week.

This work provides experience in almost every phase of Christian activity. Assignments include Sunday school classes, hospital visitation, jail work, open air meetings, rescue mission work, house-to-house visitation, young people's meetings, Child Evangelism Fellowships, Hi-C Clubs, Pioneer Girls' Clubs, Boys' Brigades, Week-Day Church School, Work among foreign-speaking groups, and gospel team work.

Teaching in the Sunday School

Singing in a Rescue Mission

Some students are amazed as they see the conditions under which some people live, and when confronted with the appalling ignorance of the gospel on the part of so many in this country.

Other students have come face-to-face with very difficult problems in relation to their assignments and are challenged again and again. They have proved to their own satisfaction and edification that God Himself is more than able to meet all their needs.

Communications from former students telling of the many ways in which they have drawn upon their experiences in Practical Christian Work, are in themselves sufficient testimonies to the importance of this work.

The ministry of the tract in personal work.

In Memoriam

We honor the precious memories of three of God's choicest servants who were together ushered into His presence on May 23, 1950. Those who knew them best must agree that their complete surrender to Christ and their utter devotion to the ministry to which He had called them left little to be desired. Their lives were an inspiration to their fellows and their sudden departure has already challenged hundreds to "follow in their train." May God bless their memories to the spread of the Gospel of Christ to which each was earnestly dedicated.

THE Sweetest PART OF INSTITUTE LIFE...

is the Sweet Shop, of course. It was fun to go there with the gang after study hours and you especially appreciated it when you "slept in" and missed breakfast or got back too late for dinner. And remember the good discussions, theological and otherwise, you and your friends had over a coke. Not that anybody's beliefs were changed, but they were enjoyed immensely by all. And in years to come when you're fondly reminiscing, we think you'll agree that the Sweet Shop was the "sweetest" part of Institute life.

Remember this?

Wasn't it a thrill, the first time you saw this slip of paper and realized your own training was because of the gifts and prayers of Christian friends! How thankful you are as you go forth that you have received the finest preparation for Christian service because Institute friends gave of their means—often at great sacrifice.

TUITION-free

Now you can show your appreciation for your training by enabling other consecrated young men and women to receive preparation for soul winning service. Perhaps you never can give as liberally as you wish, but remember—small cash donations, averaging ten dollars a gift, make up three-fourths of the Institute income. So give as you are able, and pray that the Lord may continue to use Moody-trained men and women to show forth Him who is light to a dark and sin-sick world.

Beyond Today...

Today can be so many things . . . when you're a student with a Sunday School class. A tough assignment for your first-period class in the morning . . . a term paper that's due on Friday. Or maybe it's a story for the STUDENT that you're desperately hammering out to beat a copy deadline . . . elusive information to be tracked down in the library . . . committee meetings and choir rehearsals—no matter what your course or major, you run an endless race against time. Those precious spare moments are spent every week preparing to teach that Sunday School class.

There's no relaxing when you get to Sunday School, either. No matter how well you've studied your lesson, you always feel a little inadequate when you finally face those waiting youngsters. So you pray in honest humility, and ask the Lord to make up for your shortcomings.

And there's always the feeling—when class is over—that maybe you could have done better. It's hard to know whether you got anywhere or not.

. . . Such is today for you. This is your brief hour in your corner of His great vineyard. Commonplace . . . ordinary . . . just another Sunday School class among the thousands that meet every week.

But then, you look beyond the pressure of today's busy labor . . . beyond today, to eternity's harvest. You can never know what those hours in your Sunday School class will mean to precious youngsters. Nor is it likely they will ever realize themselves. But the influence of those hours in your class will doubtless remain with them the rest of their lives, coloring their most basic viewpoints, and weighting their most crucial decisions. Some will one day kneel at the cross because you were faithful in pressing home the claims of Christ. The fateful decisions that mark out the destiny of a human soul may be made aright because that person once heard God's Word from your lips.

And so, as the cherished hour of graduation nears, Scripture Press salutes a new regiment of Christian workers. May you labor in hope, because you look beyond today. To all of you, the vision of tomorrow's harvest will lend new strength for today's tasks. Let us all take courage and labor joyfully for our Lord. May we do each day's work for Christ, our Lord, with Eternity's values in view.
